

Does abstaining on low-confidence cases reduce error under shift?

